

Timeline of the 2019-2020 season showing the progression of the COVID-19 pandemic. The timeline is marked with dates from April 1 to May 1, 2020. Key events include the first case in April, the first death in April, the first case in May, and the first death in May. The timeline is divided into two main periods: April and May. The April period shows a sharp increase in cases, peaking in late April, followed by a decline. The May period shows a continued decline in cases, with a slight uptick in late May. The timeline is labeled with 'First case' and 'First death' for both April and May.